ADD40's mission is to advance the understanding of sustainability as it relates to the transportation sector and facilitate the development and implementation of research addressing the sustainability of transportation. To this end, the committee is focused on promoting transportation research that integrates all three dimensions of sustainability – that is, the promotion of a healthy environment, social equity within and between generations, and economic vitality.

As part of its new research agenda, ADD40 is looking to develop collaborative research partnerships with other TRB committees that have an interest in promoting integrated approaches to the sustainability challenges ahead. We are especially interested in supporting TRB committees that currently have an interest in one or two of the three dimensions of sustainability, and would like to expand the scope of existing or future research needs statements to cover all three dimensions.

If you would like to explore research ideas with members and friends of ADD40, please consider joining us at the TRB 93rd Annual Meeting during one of our committee meetings.
