

Costs:

The program fee is $2,500. It includes housing and three meals per day, transportation costs, CISI travel insurance, and lodging for field trips, and administrative costs. Students will also be charged summer tuition, and will be expected to cover their own out-of-pocket expenses.

Personal expenses are estimated as follows:

Roundtrip airline ticket ~ $2,000

Passport/visa fees* ~ $200

Books and supplies ~ $50

Personal expenses ~ $400

* Passport/visa fees may vary

 Will be affected by individual travel, souvenirs, and other items

Financial Aid:

Education abroad financial aid may be available for Virginia Tech students. Contact Virginia Tech's Global Education Office for more information:

<http://www.educationabroad.vt.edu/>

Experience WASH (Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene) in Malawi

The Program at a Glance:

Dates: Summer II, 2016

Credits: 3

Eligibility: Sophomores, juniors, seniors, graduate students

Program Fee: $2,500

wash-malawi-g@vt.edu

Contact For Further Information:

Ralph Hall, Instructor

Email: rphall@vt.edu

About the Instructor: Ralph Hall is an Assistant Professor of Urban Affairs and Planning in Blacksburg, VA. He specializes in sustainable development, with a focus on rural water supply and sanitation services in developing countries. He has lead WASH-related research in India, Colombia, Senegal, Mozambique, and Burkina Faso.